

Levels are measurement-specific settings, not incident-severity classes or equal standardized perturbations.